White Adriatics 4 1-2 Cents: No Offerings on Calimyrnas.

Association to Accept Valley Figs on Consignment

Heavy importation of figs into the country is largely responsible for the decline of the fig market from 14 cents to 12 cents, which is being paid today, according to J. E. Niwander, general manager of the peach and fig association.

The association is now engaged in canvassing the fig territory to ascertained the fig tonnage that remains in the hands of the growers. It is the purpose of the association, said Niwander, to endeavor to aid the growers in disposing of their crops, although the organization of fruit interests active took place too late for the association to make arrangements for this year's crops.

"We are clearing out packing houses as rapidly as possible in order to provide storage for the 1920 crop of figs now in the hands of the growers and unsold," said the association manager.

There is no legal obligation upon this association, he said, to present the crop for sale, but it is the intention to ascertained our members' members in storing and marketing the remainder of the 1920 crop. Therefore, our warehouse, packing and marketing facilities are being offered to any fig growers now under contract to the association. In a few weeks we will be ready to receive figs, which will be accepted on the consignment basis only of all members who wish the association to handle their crop. Notes will be sent to the growers as to time and place of making delivery.

Price Declines.

Commenting on the fig market and general conditions, Niwander said that the price has declined steadily during the past twelve months from 15 cents per pound to the present low level of 12 cents for white Adriatics, with practically no buyers for Calimyrnas.

"This condition," said the association manager, "is largely due to the heavy importation of foreign figs. Adventists are the principal importers of the world, but started to product toward this country, seeking to take advantage of the high market prevailing here a few months ago, and particularly to receive in payment the American dollar, which due to the present rate of exchange, is most attractive to all foreign countries."

Supporting his report on conditions, Niwander exhibited a letter received from a correspondent in New York, which says:

"We have written you quite fully from time to time on the Sprawling situation. In fact, we understand, there is being offered a block, said to be 40,000 fifty-pound boxes, of packed figs for shipment from Algiers at 8 cents per pound, duty paid, ex dock New York. We were able to get a hold of a few of these figs and are sending you, under separate cover, three of them, which will give you some idea what they are and we believe you will agree with us, that while they are not as good as Smyrna, they are very good value for the money."

Fig seem to be coming from almost all sections. There were a lot of Spanish figs sold last week at 4 cents per pound duty paid."

FOWLERITE IS GIVEN $30 FINE

First Trial Is Held Over Recent Three-Cornered Fight in Street

FOWLERITE, Oct. 26.—The case of the people against Frank M. Sturtevant, tried in recorder's court this morning, drew a large number of interested spectators. The charge was disturbance of the peace and defendant was charged with assault and battery, from which judgment defendant's attorney gave notice of appeal. This case grew out of a three-cornered street fight on October 11 in which Sturtevant, Jack Treyley, and H. L. Cholidge took part, and because of which all three were arrested on charges of disturbance of the peace. Cholidge pleaded guilty and was fined $10, while Sturtevant was fined $25. The court adjourned to consider the appeal.

There is no legal obligation upon this court to hear the present trial, yet it feels it has a duty to ascertain the facts now in the hands of the association.

Commenting on the fig market and general conditions, Niwander said that the price has declined steadily during the past twelve months from 15 cents per pound to the present low level of 12 cents for white Adriatics, with practically no buyers for Calimyrnas.

RESPONSIVE GOVERNMENT

Fixing of responsibility has always been considered the heart of any charter. City officials must be men who can do what the people of the city expect them to do and on whom the people can rely to do it.

All the growing pains that city governments, of one sort or another have had been developed by this need of responsibility. The city government must be responsible to the city as a whole, its wishes expressed irregularly, perhaps through changing majorities, through the fluctuations of factions, the bursting out of new leadership, through the outside influences of state and national issues. The city government often is at a quandary as to whom it is to be responsible to. Sometimes there is a silent, unofficial "boss". Sometimes there is a coterie of influential citizens. Sometimes there are social cleavages. Sometimes there are real municipal parties. Sometimes there are merely the branches of state or national parties. Sometimes industrial questions of minor importance create factions that have their effect upon municipal policies, or at least interest the personnel of municipal governments. We are cataloguing all these lines of division merely to refresh our memories of the problem that government "by the people" presents in municipal politics. Yet the task, though difficult, is being attacked earnestly all over the country, and in many respects is beyond the experimental stage. We are getting systems of city administration that are more and more "responsible".

A second problem is that of efficiency. And efficiency nearly always goes back to the problem of money. To pay enough to attract public service and not too much. To organize so as to make the best use of men and not too many men. With these two considerations brought to bear directly on the problem of charter building, a satisfactory method for us to govern our municipal affairs will be reached.

In the city charter that is presented to us for approval next Tuesday, both these considerations have been given expert and sympathetic treatment. The charter has been drawn by Fresnoans, familiar with Fresno ideals and Fresno prejudices and Fresno views of municipal problems. Then, with this accomplished, it has been submitted to critical experts, familiar with the working of cities all over the United States, and they have approved it. The document is before us. The efficiency part of the problem is a more technical one, the details of which will not interest any of us, except those who have made a close study of our city affairs. But this "responsibility" is something that we all have an opinion on, can understand, and appreciate, and will want to be convinced about.

The first thing to make sure of is that offices have been so devised that the men that will be elected to them will be "known" to the city. We not only will be personally satisfied with the men to run the city, but we will know that they are going to do it. The business of the city is divided up into three natural divisions. Each is in charge of a man to be chosen by the voters of Fresno. The voters will know that each of these men is to "execute" the laws of the city in his particular line and interests, out of the wishes of the city commission on new problems as they arise in this particular division of work. The mayor is to be responsible for law and order and safety. There will be a commissioner responsible for finance, the city budget and expenditures. There will be a third to look after public works, construction and so on. These men are not to make laws but to execute them. But in that wide margin of city business where there is no law but in which the public demands that the city do something, the appropriate commissioner will act on his own initiative, until a more mature judgment shall be expressed by the whole commission.

Three men will give their whole time, at reasonable pay, to the major problems of the city. No administrative official will have to wait for a meeting of the city council, or for the action of a committee of trustees, each of the latter men under the present system is earning his own living with his private business. The busy street superintendent, the chief of police, a contractor attending to construction work, any employee of the city, great or small, will find at his elbow a commissioner, with full authority to approve or disapprove his work.

It goes without saying that this charter does not propose to make over the character or the purposes of the political activity of the citizens of Fresno. The man who is to be mayor of the new city will naturally be chosen from the "field," that list of citizens that volunteer or are drafted into public duty. So with the rest of the commission. And if the men named are not of as high type as the requirements of the city justify, it will mean that the people of this city cannot offer reward in the way of honor sufficient to bring out men of that kind. But the proposed charter at least provides the machinery, the organization for an improved government. Where in the past good administrators have been helpless in a maze of complicated government, or the city trustees have been stopped by salary limitations from employing the men they want, the limit will now be removed. The kind of a government we want can be created under this proposed charter. We have found that it could not be done under the charter we now employ.

NOT ACCEPTABLE

The Republican does not wish to appear at all to hold responsible any advocate of the chiropractic system of healing in Fresno for the proposed attempt to make use of the memory of Dr. Chester Rowell, of this city, as a point of attack on the position of his nephew in opposition to ballot Measure No. 5. We cannot allow, however, to go unnoticed the attempts of agents of the State Chiropractic Societly to pretend that they had not planned such an attempt. After the publication of the first statement in this paper, regarding the proposal to hold a meeting in front of the Rowell monument, M. E. Eldridge, a chiropractor of Los Angeles, last Saturday arrived in this city, and denied that there was any plan to make a demonstration before the Rowell monument, in an interview with a member of the Republican staff, he said:

"Chiropractors are not making a political fight against Chester H. Rowell, and certainly not against the memory of his uncle, whom the citizens of Fresno have honored by the erection of a monument."

Subsequent to the publication of this interview, a letter was received by the editor of the Republican from this same M. E. Eldridge, in which he said:

"In the name of more than one hundred members of the State Chiropractor Society who visited the Rainin Metropolis Sunday, I wish to thank you for the publication of my denial of the charges made in a telegram to the Republican by the former owner of the paper."

In the Los Angeles Evening Express of Saturday, October 23, 1920, there appears a four-column, seven-inch advertisement, in which, following the caption "Attention, Chiropractors," is set forth the following:

"Fresno next! * * * We will meet in the park at Fresno at 9 a. m. Sunday in front of the statue of Chester Rowell, M. D., father of Chester A. Rowell, owner and editor of the Fresno Republican, the paper that has fed the campaign of falsehood and vilification against the Chiropractors and the chiropractic initiative measure Number Five."

Fresno, Calif., October 28, 1920.

Editor Republican:

In this morning's issue of The Republican, in an editorial entitled "Sam Shortridge," you say:

"Mr. Howell, another of the leaders in the progressive reforms in California, has entered this campaign on the principle that all other considerations are to be made subordinate to the League of Nations issue."

It has been well said that a half-truth is the worst form of lie; how then shall we characterize an editorial innovation that is not even half a truth? Every half-way intelligent reader of the Republican during the past several months knows that Mr. Chester Rowell was uniformly opposed to Sam Shortridge for United States Senator on principle, and that this opposition was irrespective of any stand on the League of Nations that Shortridge might maintain. Mr. Rowell in his editorials has said in substance that, as between Sam Shortridge, hidebound reactionary and opponent of every progressive movement in California for the past ten years, and Senator Phelan, there is only one possible choice.

FUNDS NEEDED FOR NEAR EAST

229 Orphanages Caring
For About 110,000
Children Now

The American public has in the past been appealed to for funds with which to relieve the suffering and want in Near East lands. Last year the appeal was made for a million starving people, 2,000,000 homeless children and countless girls imprisoned in Turkish harem. It would have been an overwhelming task for America to have fully met the situation, but that much was done. Poor and what sufficed for training were sent over to Fresno. The enough seed wheat was sent to plant for this year's harvest. Seed was distributed and distress generally reduced to a minimum.

Through the Near East Relief, 229 orphanages have been established caring for 110,000 little children. These children are without parents or homes and have truly become the wards of Near East charity and long-endure. These children will remain an obligation upon America until such time as they may become self-supporting. California is asked to maintain 23 of them as her share in the national obligation. Fresno county's share is 186.

It is not intended to carry on an all-out campaign for this purpose, the money needed is this year $100,000. An offer has been made at the Masonic Hall, from which the work of Near East Relief in Fresno, Fresno, Madera and Merced counties will be directed. Contributions may be sent to the Near East Relief at that address and from there will be forwarded to the State office in San Francisco.

The outstanding feature in connection with Near East Relief is the fact that it is an American organization especially chartered by Congress charged with the responsibility for American benevolence in Asia Minor. Failure on the part of Near East Relief to carry out the purpose for which it was organized will mean failure on the part of the American public to meet its obligations.

California has each year ranked among the leaders in this particular benevolence and will undoubtedly maintain the high standard of former years.

IT'S not a bit of trouble to have plenty of good things to eat on hand all the time, when you use Calumet Baking Powder.

There is not as much worry over baking costs either. Because Calumet costs less—when you buy it—the price is moderate.

—the Kind
Mother
Uses!

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

F. A. Berg Back From
Trip to Australia

E. A. Berg, local furniture man, returned yesterday from Australia where he spent the last three months and expresses surprise that there are Japanese in the country, which he said he found due to the fact that only colored but all colored races are barred from settlement, even though the colored are British subjects.

Berg states that colored persons are permitted to enter the country for six months under heavy bond to leave within that time. The shortage of merchandise there does not prevent Australia from being a great market. Living conditions there, Berg says, are much the same now in this country, it being practically impossible to obtain a house for rent.

SINN FEINERS VISIT BRIXTON TO PAY TRIBUTE

San Francisco Plans Holding MacSwiney Procession

Much Rioting Prevails in All Parts of Ireland

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The police guard at Brixton prison was again increased today. The total number of the guard there is unknown, as most of the troops are kept under cover, but there is a considerablearrison inside the gates.

Sinn Feiners who arrived from Cork and other parts of Ireland for the obsequies went to Brixton prison in little parties throughout the day to see where the lord-mayor had died. They were all wearing Sinn Feiners draped with mourning. Entering street vendors were also selling Sinn Fein routes bordered with mourning. "Crest" in the prison entrance, while the police looked on without comment.

Deputy Lord-Mayor O'Callaghan and other members of the Cork corporation visited the prison this afternoon and were granted permission to view MacSwiney's body.

San Francisco to Parade

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Memorial services, which will include a funeral procession with coffin and bier, are being planned by the Irish settlers here for next Sunday to commemorate the death of Terence MacSwiney, lord-mayor of Cork. The procession, according to the plans being formulated, will start from the civic center to St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral, where a solemn high-requiem mass will be offered up for the repose of MacSwiney's soul.

The plans will be subject to the approval of Rt. Rev. Archbishop Edward J. Flanagan, the Catholic diocesan of San Francisco, who will be asked to be censor of the singer. It is planned to have Rev. George C. York, rector of St. Peter's church, preach the oration.

Rioting at Belfast

BELFAST, Oct. 26.—Further rioting occurred here last night. Large crowds burned the offices of Terence MacSwiney, lord-mayor of Cork, and a search party, mistaking the offices for those of prominent Lloyd George, started expulsions with men burning the fixtures.

A fight was soon going on, and the police being powerless to quell the disorder, troops were summoned. Several shots were fired by the soldiers and order was soon restored. John McLeod was shot and killed yesterday during a fight caused by the display of Sinn Fein flags.

Three Killed, Dublin

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Three men were shot and killed by masked men who were alleged to be wearing knapsack uniforms here today. The shooting took place in the Thurlow district, one of the victims being the registrar of the local arbitration court. Michael Ryan was shot while going to bed, where he had been sitting. From pneumonia he was said to be dead. The other two were reported "slightly" wounded. The police reported that a political prisoner incarcerated in Mountjoy prison was dead. The identity of the man was not announced.

ARRANGES FOR LEASE OF SIBERIAN TRACT

Californian Back From Russia Tells of Arrangement

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Washington D. Vanderlip of California, who recently visited Russia, has sent a telegram from Copenhagen saying he has concluded an extensive arrangement with the Russian Soviet authorities by which an organization of western American financiers acquires a 50-year lease of a vast tract in northeastern Siberia, with exclusive right to develop coal, oil and fisheries. He stated that his associates are the heads of leading financial institutions west of the Rockies.

Mr. Vanderlip's telegram describes the tract thus required as "an northeastern Siberia east of the 140th meridian, including the peninsula of Kamchatka, an area of some 600,000 square miles."

He says the tract is to be taken over and active operation begun in the spring of next year.

He adds, concerning his recent visit to Moscow:

"I am highly amused by stories contained in recent foreign papers about the rebellions in Russia. Moscow is as safe as any city in the world. Its people are friendly, the streets quiet, absolutely safe, and the foreign press is most successful.

"The foreign press is designed to prevent legitimate American business activity in this great Russian market. I have confidence in their power to carry out their part of any agreement we may enter into."

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, is interested in numerous financial and industrial enterprises and elsewhere said today that he was one of the persons associated with Washington D. Vanderlip, a mining and oil engineer, in the latter's acquisition of a section of Siberia.

Mr. Chandler said that about 25 business men had become associated with Mr. Vanderlip, who has spent two years in Siberia and that they were engaged in extensive explorations with a view to determining the mining oil and fisheries possibilities of a large section of that country.

He said that for the present, at least, their work would be confined to exploration; but that they held an option for a contract, for actual development if it should be determined that such work would bring financial returns.

The men named by Mr. Chandler as associated with Mr. Vanderlip are all rated locally as wealthy. Several of them are reputed to be multimillionaires.

A fight was soon going on, and the police being powerless to quell the disorder, troops were summoned. Several shots were fired by the soldiers and order was soon restored. John McLeod was shot and killed yesterday during a fight caused by the display of Sinn Fein flags.

GREEK THRONE TO BE OFFERED TO PRINCE PAUL

Admiral Coundouriotis Is Favored as Regent

Ex-King Constantine Affected By Death of Successor

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The throne of Greece, made vacant by the death of King Alexander, will be offered to Prince Paul, the son of former King Constantine. It is officially announced.

ATHENS, Oct. 26.—(By Associated Press).—The throne of Greece, made vacant by the death of King Alexander, will be offered to Prince Paul, the son of former King Constantine. It is officially announced.

ATHENS, Oct. 26.—Admiral Coundouriotis, former minister of marine, is reported to be the government's official first choice for the regency. The recent report of King Constantine's death, it is said, has had an immediate effect on the succession. The king died last night, ascends the throne. He was formerly a member of the royal government and is known to be friendly to the Entente.

Ex-King in Tears

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 26.—Former King Constantine of Greece burst into tears today upon learning of the death of his second son, King Alexander of Greece, news of which was received last night, although it was withheld from the deposed monarch until this morning. The former king has not seen his son in several years. Prince Paul was not mentioned when asked recently by a newspaper correspondent whether he would accept the Greek throne in the event of the death of his brother, then still living.

"I will leave the matter in the hands of my father," he replied.

It is understood the marriage of Prince George, eldest son of former King Constantine, to Princess Elizabeth of Romania has been postponed.

He said that for the present, at least, their work would be confined to exploration; but that they held an option for a contract, for actual development if it should be determined that such work would bring financial returns.

LETS FISTS SETTLE SCHOOL DISPUTES

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—School room disputes at the Webster school here, where children of various nationalities are not set by the arbitrary of the teacher, instead the principal, Miss Alice M. Hodge, believes letting the boys decide their grievances with their fists, has been learned today, and in the latest quarrel the action is second to both combats and fist fights.

It was a fight to the finish in the school basement between Salvatore Sartino and Abe Solon, both aged 12. Time was called several times to enable the combats to rest and rung out their rounds after each round of punches.

"Letting the boys fight out their troubles is the best way in which," said Miss Hodge. "Of course, the fights must be fair."

"I never permit any serious injuries. A black eye is the limit. Abe was flogged to be a bully and got just what he needed. They still be friends now and when we have no more trouble from them."

Superintendent Martensen declared he was in favor of Miss Hodge's method.

"It is the most successful ever tried in that school."

REPORT BIG CITIES IN EUROPE CLEAN Says American Larger Municipalities Far Behind

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The largest cities of Europe, in point of cleanliness and tidiness of streets, are far ahead of New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and many other cities in America, says Clyde A. Copson, manager of the Anti-Litter branch of the Merchants' Association, who has just returned from a tour of observation in Europe.

In some sections of New-York, he said, "you can see more street litter in one square block than in the city I visited abroad. Paris and London are models of cleanliness and comparatively free of street litter of any description. This is due to the fact that the people abroad are more than we who live in America."

"The city of New York, countenances conditions that none of the cities which I visited would tolerate for a moment."

Mr. Copson said that London has the best organized street cleaning department in Europe. Glasgow, the poorest, and Paris has the best. But London has a good system of street cleaners, drivers and all chauffeurs, alone. Mr. Copson's statement said that they seem to know their business, and when in trouble are about to run down a pedestrian they take the horses instead of trotting horns. The chauffeurs in New York do just the opposite, hence the greater number of accidents and injuries.

"Newshawks and vendors in London," he added, "do not shout their wares, but instead carry signs on which is printed in large letters the important news headlines. The system helps considerably in lessening the general noise. The subways or 'tubes,' as they are called in London, are more comfortable than ours, and scrupulously clean."

NO REVOLT MARKS CUBAN ELECTION

HAVANA, Oct. 25.—The Cuban presidential campaign is nearing its end with little talk this year of a revolution.

The leader of the 1912 revolution, General Jose Gomez, a former president, died in Mexico City. On the ticket with him is Miguel Angel, a former conservative and a sugar millionaire. The Gomez attempt to overthrow the government of President Menocal, who is serving his second term, brought many changes in Cuban politics and today the old party lineup is shattered.

In the place of the once strong conservative party there is the National party, largely comprising members of the conservative and popular parties. The election nominee is Dr. Alfredo Zayas, candidate for vice-president under Gomez in 1912.

The election is to be held Monday, November 1, will be the first under the law signed by Major General Gomez, the American wartime provost marshal general. It is designed to prevent fraud.

As a precautionary measure, President Menocal has issued a decree against carrying arms. Soldiers are held in readiness for any emergency and the police will be guarded by troops election day.

The statue is that of a French soldier with a banner uplifted, waving the sky and is entitled "For Country, For Science, For Glory." The original of the statue is at West Point. It was given to the United States Military Academy by a committee of the Polytechnic School which visited America last spring and by the French sculptor, Theunissen.

EVOLUTION OF CABLE CONFERENCE STILL UNDECIDED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—The passing of the fire laws from Manhattan Island and the installation of a high pressure water system in Boston to eliminate even the fire engines are further steps in the stage of progress from the romantic days of the fire-breathing old "landmills," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Fire Protection Society.

"Some remember when citizens armed themselves and in red shirts and with pitchforks, with pitchforks in the front of a procession on Grand Street, the bodyguard of the gallant old Job as it paraded the streets on its gala occasion. Then, passage for fire-fighting ran to a high pitch and arguments were waged about the merits of particular engines. Today the throats of a motor-driven engine are taking the place of those heart-throats. The horses that once have clattered from their stalls, glided before their harness and never gloried in the sight of the deadly fire-extinguishing efforts before the fire-extinguishing demon are drawing farm wagons or plowing the fields."

In those days communities were dependent upon volunteers, and men from all social ranks gave valuable time to qualify themselves for the service.

It was a modern hypodermic syringe, but has the appearance of a small fountain pen, possibly to escape suspicion. The needle is extremely small and makes a puncture so minute that it is scarcely felt.

The poison found in the pen is yellowish and unknown to chemists, who are trying to analyze it. Inside the syringe is the trademark in red, "Made in Russia."

LAUNCH COMMUNITY CHURCH IN KANSAS

OLATHE, Kan., Oct. 25.—The International Communications Conference session here is discussing fundamental issue on the progress of which depends, officials say, the success of the conference. It arose from the claim of the American delegates that the former German cables in the Atlantic should be restored as before the war, again giving America direct communication with Germany.

The cables were cut by the Germans during the war, the French retaking the lines formerly running through the English channel to Germany, and which were diverted to Brest, while the British continued the service on the cable which ran from Germany to America by way of the Azores to Halifax.

Of the 1,500 miles of captured cables the French control nine thousand; the British five thousand and the Danes the remainder.

British delegates are said to be realizing the American claim that the status of the cables should be restored. The representatives of the two countries on the committee created to deal with the subject are said to be too tired to agree with make it useless to continue the conference.

U. S. SCHOONER IS OFF FOR HALIFAX

Will Meet Canadian Craft For Title to North Atlantic

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 26.—The fishing schooner, Esperando, ticked up like a million-dollar yacht, cut out to sea yesterday in the robes of every old salt and young sailor in this port, bound for Halifax, N. S. The schooner will meet the crack Canadian Fisher craft in the banks, in a series of races for the championship of the North Atlantic.

After being towed out of the inner harbor to avoid the necessity of beating against the wind, the Esperando shook off the tugs astern and showed her nautical heels to crowds which lined every wharf and packed craft of every description.

A short run, a beat back and a bit of a stretch to the horizon, told all how she behaved, was Captain Mattie Welch's way of showing his appreciation of the rousing sendoff and hearty good-bye given Esperando and her crew.

Gloucester's sendoff was as loud as every available whistle, bell and foghorn could make it; as long as it was thought the sturdy crew of the Esperando was within hearing.

Captain Welch had received before setting a sail from Boston Gloucester's Republican candidate for President, wishing him success.

Replies Captain Welch added: "We expect to bring Old Glory over the finish line again in the lead, but if we do not our Canadian cousins will know we have been in a race."

All sail was set as the schooner slipped out of view around Eastern Point, and with a fair start, it was expected her skipper would bring her honor to Halifax by Wednesday afternoon. Esperando went out without a single scratch.

After tests, but Captain Welch said the run down would put her in trim for any weather or any competition which she was likely to meet in the race which will begin Saturday.

Results of Boxing Matches at Taft

FRESNO, Oct. 26.—The boxing matches at Taft tonight resulted as follows: Bill Abbott of the local team of Taft fought a draw, Harry substituted for Johnny Cline, because Abbott had an infected arm and the doctor would not let him fight. Sutter Burrows of Los Angeles and Edie Berlin of Newman fought a draw. The fight consisted of very little science and lots of slugging.

Bill Abbott of Taft lost the decision to Johnny Cline of Los Angeles, both were fast and fierce and it hard to say who was the best. The evening's best fight was between Wild Bill Lopez and Eddie Stanley of Bakersfield. Lopez fought wild and fast to a draw. Billy Martin of Taft took the decision from Wild Cat McBrien of Los Angeles; both fought well.

SALONIKI NEEDS MORE HOUSING

Only Half Population Is Sheltered; Fire Leaves 75,000 Homeless

SALONIKI, Greece, Oct. 25.—Americans who think they are suffering severely from bad housing and living conditions and high rents should get a glimpse of this congested and beleaguered Oriental city with its narrow, dark streets, cobble pavements, tumbling down buildings, cellar-like houses and other concomitants of poverty. There are only enough houses to shelter one-half the population of 175,000. The rest of the people live in tents, in huts in the fields, in caves and in fields, or among the charred ruins of their former homes which were devastated by a great fire that leveled the city to ashes in August, 1917.

Only the wealthiest can afford anything like a fully furnished house. Whole flats or apartments are unknown; a family must be content with a single room. Rents have increased greatly since the quiet days of war with the invading American allies. Tenants have no such legal protection against landlords as there is anywhere in New York. Residents say great is the need for space that the municipality has turned over a number of Turkish mosques in which to shelter the people. In one of these ancient shrines, 500 people live in one great family. They sleep on the stone floor and live in primitive community life.

Saloniki is struggling to the devastated jaws ofather war again. Everywhere are ruined houses, charred wreckage, piles of dust and debris. The government has gone into town restoring the city since the great fire which left 75,000 persons homeless and entailed $20,000,000 property damage. The housing situation is a critical one. The local authorities have put up several temporary structures containing four to eight rooms, each room housing a whole family of eight or ten. Sleeps, cooking and washing are done in the same room.

The Jewish Community also has erected a small number of houses, but they are wholly inadequate to take care of the large number of refugees without homes and the constant stream of refugees from Macedonia.

Hundreds of families have found refuge in the cellars and sub-cellars of the destroyed buildings. The cellars are dark, damp, cheerless and lightless. The refugees are in a state of despair. When a rain comes often it rains and starts deep in the floor. The extreme congestion has seriously affected the moral standards of the people, many of whom, before the fire, were persons of considerable income and of good standards of family life.

TREED BY ELEPHANTS, BORNEO

Mr. and Mrs. MARTIN JOHNSON

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, noted globe trotters, photographed upon their return to the United States with their pets, a gibbon and an orangutan, remembrances of their thrilling experiences with the cannibals of the Solomon Group. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson settled in 1914 to the South Sea Islands and went to the Island of Borneo. They were made prisoners of the cannibals and only the arrival of a French battleship two days later saved them. In telling of his experiences in Borneo, Mr. Johnson said while making a trip through the jungle their party was forced to take to the trees when attacked by a herd of elephants. They remained in the upper branches of the trees for an entire night. Mr. Johnson is holding Jessie, the orang, who added quite a thrill to the trip from London to New York when she secured a bottle of vermouth and went on a spree. Jessie was nursing a big head upon her arrival.

GEDEON GIVES TESTIMONY IN BASEBALL PROBE

Rothstein and St. Louis Star Exonerated of Charges

Testimony Strengthens Cases of Others Indicted

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The Gedeon, St. Louis American League second baseman, and Arnold Rothstein of New York gave testimony today before the Cook county grand jury investigating the baseball scandal which the state's attorney's office afterward announced had exonerated the two men from complicity in the throwing of games in the 1919 world series, but had materially strengthened the cases of some of the men already indicted.

The Gedeon denied the taking of testimony in the investigation which has hauled more than a dozen men indicted in three bills being voted against thirteen men on charges of conspiracy to do an illegal work. The jury will vote no more than bills, according to state officials, who said that Rothstein and Gedeon were the only men said to have been implicated in the scandal against whom cross-bills had not previously been voted and that the jury was convinced that these two were innocent.

Testimony Against Attell-Chase

Gedeon and Rothstein testified that Abe Attell, Hal Chase, William Burns and others on whom the jury already had acted. Their testimony probably will result in an attempt to have Attell brought here from Canada for trial, officials said. It being believed he that he can be extradited.

Supplementing the announcement by the state's attorney's office, President Johnson of the American League told the jury that he was "extremely anxious" and Alfred Austrian, attorney for the Chicago American League club, learned a statement saying that "Rothstein, in his testimony today, has given himself up."

Attorney Austrian declared that Rothstein, who had been mentioned in some quarters as the man who financed the bribing of Chicago, White Sox players, not only had NOT helped the series, but had done everything he could to prevent the fixing.

Tipped by W. W. Burns

Gedeon told the jury of being tipped by a White Sox player that the series was "fixed" and also told of being present at conferences held by Abe Attell and others in a Chicago hotel. He said he had accidentally wandered into one conference, and when he found what was the subject being discussed, he went into the bathroom to get a bath, then what was being said. He decided to tell the jury the name of the player who tipped him off and the question was, "Who?" State officials saying that "already knew" "Sport" Sullivan of Boston and R. Brown of New York, against who the jury has voted, true bills, were mentioned by Gedeon as men he understood were back of the bribing. Both were named in his Williams, White Sox, pitched in his confession. Abe Attell, Al Chase, Bill Burns and White Sox players were also named by the St. Louis player.

Attell had approached him, Gedeon told the jury, and his statement of what he believed were the investigators of the grand jury and his statement was borne out by Rothstein.

"Asked my newspaper men if 'anyone' was here, he said 'no,'" Rothstein replied "no."

Rothstein said he lost $300 on the series. Gedeon said he won $800.

League Heads to Meet

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Bar Johnson, president of the American League; Alfred Austrian, attorney for the Chicago American League club, which has opposed Johnson in administration of the league's affairs; and Judge Charles A. McDonald, in charge of the grand jury, baseball investigation, met today in the judge's chambers. Each denied, however, that it was a pre-arranged conference, or that it had anything to do with the proposed reorganization of baseball in which Johnson has not yet joined.

"I just came in to rest, while Mr. Rothstein testified," said Mr. Austrian. "I dropped in to wait for Gedeon to finish his testimony," said Johnson. "They came in to see how court is conducted and was all said, said 'Hello' and Judge McDonald."

LUMBER PRICES CUT 20 PER CENT IN SUDDEN DROP

Decided Decrease Made on Common Material Is Announced

Drop Said to Be About Half of Advance Since 1917

Influenced by a nation-wide lumber market as reflected in current statistics showing a 15 per cent drop in the cost of living, building lumber has taken a large drop in price, according to information received yesterday by C. D. LeMaster from lumber producing and shipping centers.

Quotations, registering cuts of various sizes and amounting to approximately 20 per cent, came from building lumber interests last week. The reductions announced amount almost 50 per cent of the total rise since the early days of 1917, it was said.

On the basis of the price of three years ago, building materials in the lumber line have gone up slightly more than 100 per cent from quotations.

The present decrease is approximately one-half of the advance made during the entire period.

"The reductions reported are for various materials, the greatest being common building lumber of about 40 per cent," said LeMaster last night. "My information is authoritative and accurate, but I am not in a position to say that lumber is settling at a new level, due to the nation-wide readjustments as reflected in Binger tabulation report just received at my office this morning, showing a total drop in the cost of living of 15 per cent."

"Lumber is more than rarely the first important commodity to suffer at a national level. The sudden and unexpectedness of the drop is undoubtedly due to the easing up of the war situation in the northwest."

The mills there are already beginning to ease down, the owners saying they cannot profitably operate at the present price level. The reduction in lumber supply, or its reduction, causes the market to soften, but I have every reason to believe a fair demand can be met at the new price."

With this important development, which is expected to hit the retail trade shortly, LeMaster believes that building activity throughout the country will be greatly increased and will go far in helping to relieve the acute housing situation of the late winter months.

He declared that in view of the official reports of declining living costs, the building material dealers through their association, will request the wage adjustment board of the Building and Construction Trades Conference, after consulting with a slight decrease in wages in building lines.

"This would be merely in conformity with the contract between the employers and employees made by their organizations," LeMaster said. "Under the agreement a sliding scale of 3 per cent was adopted to take care of the increase in wages. Under it a 3.4 per cent increase was given the workers in April. This year as the government figures showed a similar increase in living costs."

"Now that prices have gone down appreciably, I am certain that an application for revision of the scale downward would make a 1.4 per cent with the new lumber prices. Fresno home-builders can get their lumber cheaper than any other place in California, although paying the highest wages for labor engaged in building trades."

The quota assignments and managers appointed to date follow:

Place Not Chosen For Dr Marvin Lectures

A number of halls have been offered for the meetings of Dr. W. B. Marvin early in November, when he will give a series of lectures on culture, topics of interest to the public, but no hall has been selected.

The lectures of Dr. Marvin are being anticipated as one of the most interesting and entertaining series that have been given in Fresno. The speaker makes his addresses humor and yet containing in them a deep spiritual note."

G. O. P. RANKS VERY ACTIVE

Supply of Automobiles Needed For Election on Tuesday

With the election but six days away, Republican leaders are putting the finishing touches on the campaign with a whirlwind of activity.

Herbert McDonald, candidate for the assembly, and J. W. Shearman spoke last night to the colored veterans at 1500 P. Street, James Oliver of San Francisco, a gifted public speaker and one of the active workers in the Johnson presidential campaign of last spring, spoke at San Joaquin Monday night, and is to speak at Colton Saturday night with Congressman H. E. Barber and County Chairman S. G. Mortland.

Organization of an effective corps of workers for election day is progressing under the direction of Edward J. Thor, ready response to his requests for volunteer help has been coming in, and it is the opinion of Mr. Thor and other leaders that sufficient not only for Harding but for Samuel M. Shortridge for senator is growing stronger daily.

The big need at present is for automobile drivers. The committee asks that local party members leaving automobiles shall put themselves at the service of the committee as much as possible on election day, in order to help in getting out the vote.

Those willing to help in this connection are asked to communicate either with Mr. Thor or J. H. Watson at Republican headquarters, 2018 Market street, or by telephoning 112.

The meeting next Tuesday will have a social program to be prepared by C. J. Murphy, vice-chairman, while the campaign committee will be located by J. A. Bell.

For the luncheon dinner of November the following committee were named: 19-El. M. Elliot, chairman, James R. Brinkley, George H. Evans, with Dr. Harry R. Brownell as "pep" chairman; 17-J. C. Fenger, chairman, W. J. Bell, Edwin E. Hartman, with C. K. Wakefield as pep-chairman.

The program yesterday included a talk on amendments to be voted on at the election, by Dr. Kenneth Stumpf.

The fourth roll call is not a campaign. It is merely the yearly opportunity for American men and women to pay their annual dues and renew their membership in their Red Cross.

This roll call finds the Red Cross as much as at any time since we entered the war in the midst of tremendous exertions.

The present roll call is vastly increased. Our primary obligation was to the service men of the army and navy, and of that obligation five things remain: To serve the army of occupation, to continue in the hospitals where there are more than 26,000 men; to keep in touch with the discharged men and be ready to contribute advice and friendly assistance to continue the work with the families of soldiers and sailors, owing to the changed needs.

Its home work for one thing, although vastly expanded by after-the-war conditions, is to devise and carry on measures for mitigating the suffering incident to pestilence and famine.

The farm bureau is strictly a farmers' organization, designed and built to make country life attractive. Farmers control the policies of the organization. Every farmer should plan to be present with his family to take part in the activities Saturday, October 30th.
